LATER.—Sheriff Chambers, it is reported, has arrested about one hundred of the strikers. He has telegraphed to Washington, Pa., for more officers, in anticipation of a serious riot to-morrow. A boat-load of provisions has been sent to the strikers by their friends. It is claimed that one thousand strikers will be at the pool before daybreak. Altogether, the situation to-night threatens disastrously for to-morrow. The workmen at Neel's mines are heavily armed, and determined to defend themselves if attacked.

WHIRLED TO DEATH.

Jacobs' Rope-Walk. CINCINNATI, November 27,-Wm. Gruber aged forty-five, a rope-walker employed at ets, met with a horrible death about 9 quantity of hemp, which he had been using tied about his waist, quit work to go out tied about his waist, quit work to go out for morning lunch. In walking by the engine, which was running at a high rate of speed, the unfortunate man passed so close that some of the hemp about his waist was caught by the driving shaft. In an instant Gruber was drawn on to the shaft and whirled about by the great flywheel. The machinery was stopped as soon as possible, but when the unfortunate man was extricated his skull and both arms were found to have been fractured and his body was horribly mutilated, causing death almost instantly. Gruber had been employed at the rope-walk for nearly twenty-five years. The body, after being viewed by the Coroner, was removed to the home of the widow. In West Covington, Ky., by Patrol Company No. 4.

DOWN TO DEATH.

Four Men Fall 150 Feet Down a Shaft at

Instantly Killed. NEW YORK, November 28 .- A terrible a ent occured early this morning at a ter County, near the line of the New York City and Northern Railroad. While a number of workmen were descending a shaft at the new acqueduct works the guard slide caught a short distance from the top, throwing out one of the occupants of the car, named John Edwards. In his fall Edwards struck against a bucket which was coming up the shaft, also containing several workmen. The concussion threw James Burke, Michael Doyle and an Italian, name unknown, from the ascending car, and they, with Edwards, fell to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 150 feet. Edwards, Burke and Doyle were instantly killed, and the Italian, sustained injuries that will prove fatal. All the killed leave families.

SEVERED IN TWO.

A Fearful Accident Resulting from a Section-Man's Blunder. BELOIT, Kas., November 27 .- A serious lent occurred Wednesday night at isey, on the Solomon railroad. A rail been removed from the main track, had been removed from the main track, and a wild train came thundering along at about thirty-five miles an hour. The section-man threw the switch open, sending the train into a lot of freight-cars standing on the side-track, smashing the engine and cars into splinters. J. M. Smyser, owner of the elevator at Lindsey, was caught between two freight-cars and his body severed in two, the upper portion flying up into the air and the lower beneath the cars. His team was also badly used up, and the horses had to be killed. The section boss was at once arrested and conveyed to jail at Minneapolis.

San Francisco, November 27.-While Charles Stuck and two others, employed at he Risdon Iron Works, were hoisting a the Risdon Iron Works, were hoisting a heavy casting this morning, the derrick chain came in contact with an electric were, and Stuck instantly dropped dead. It is supposed the chain touched a defective spot in the insulated wire, and that Stuck, being the nearest the point of contact, received the full current. The man next to him was knocked insensible, while the third received quite a severe shock.

VOL. XIX-NO. 3.

The English Election Death of the King LONDON, November 26.—The complexion of the election is as follows: The Liberals gained in Salisbury. The totals thus far are as follows: Liberals, 91; Conservatives, 90; Nationalists; 6. Liberal gain, 6; Tory gain, 27. In Hampstead, Sir H. Holland, Conservative, who received 2,785 votes, defeated the Marquis of Lorne, who received 1,810. In Westminster, Mr. might on the steamboat Stella stationed themselves about two hundred strong near the mines this morning, and as the workmen appeared they arose in a body and demanded that the workmen return to their homes at once. Those who refused to obey were roughly treated. Neil had 100 men at work last night. When they attempted to return to work they were driven back with sticks and stones. Quite a number of men were badly hurt but none fatally. Robert McCline. of the Iron and Coal Police, with six special officers, were on hand, and made an effort to check the strikers; but not wishing to precipitate a fatal riot by using their revolvers, they retreated to await reinforcements. The strikers now are in possession of the mines, and have sent for more of their number to be on hand this evening. Sheriff Chambers, of Washington County, has also been telegraphed for by the officials. The meeting between the reinforced sides is awaited with much anxiety. The people in the region about the mines are terribly excited.

LATER.—Sheriff Chambers, it is reported, has arrested about one hundred of the strikers. He has telegraphed to Washington. Pa., for more officers, in anticipation of a serious riot to-morrow. An Old Man Found by His Aged First Wife

After an Absence of Twenty-five Years.

PITTSBURGH, PA., November 26.-The peo mance, the parties to which have all passed the three score and ten mile-stone in life's George Polland quarreled with his wife in England, and in a fit of despondency left and came to this country. He located in Temperanceville, where he met Mrs. Sarah Simpson, widow of Robert Simpson, and after a few months they were married. They lived happily together, and George, being a skillful workmarried. They lived happily together, and George, being a skillful workman, has accummulated a large property, and is regarded as one of the best citizens. The couple had one child, who is now a handsome girl of eighteen. A few days ago an old lady called at a neighbors and asked him to send for George Polland. He did so, and when the old couple met the scene was affecting. The old man is almost blind and did not first recognize the aged woman, but when she called him by name his face brightened up, and he exclaimed: "Why, Mary, is this you! I thought you bad forgotten me long ago." "No, George, I haven't forgotten you, although you did leave me twenty-five years ago. You are old and need me," replied the old woman. The neighbor then learned that she was Mary Polland, George's first wife. After much hesitation, the old man told the story of his life during the past twenty-five years; how he had married another woman and had a daughter, and was living happily and comfortably. They talked the matter over and they concluded to forgive and forget the past, and that the best thing that could be done was for George to sell his property and go with his legal wife to Wilkesbarre, where they have a daughter married to a minister, and where they will spend the rest of their days. The second wife, who is also a cvery old lady, is prostrated with grief and has been confined to her bed ever since the startling news was broken to her. One of her sons by marriage with Mr. Simpson agreed to buy the real estate, and George Polland and the wife he had not seen for a quarter of a century went away together to-day.

Military Evolutions Which Are Being Practiced at Chicago for that End. CHICAGO, November 26 .- There was an nteresting scene on the lake front to-day Three hundred young men in fatigue uni-forms, armed with breech loaders, raced and tore up and down in the green sward and performed various remarkable evolutions. Out in the roadway five hundred or more civilians watched their every movement with interest. The individuals in uniforms were representatives of the eight companies of the First Regiment National Guard. ies of the First Regiment National Guard. Their evolutions were part of a new code for the dispersion of lawless mobs and the quelling of street riots, and the spectators were for the most part members of the various socialistic groups and revolutionary organizations against whom the code may some day have to be put into force. The Socialists made no demonstration, but several prominent ones took copious notes of the evolutions.

Londox, November 23.—The Servian reverses are attributed to blunders made by favorites of King Milan, who are in command. A dispatch from Vienna to the Times says: "Russia and England have induced the Porte to dispatch a note to Servia tomorrow, counselling King Milan to stop the war. The Servian war accounts are unreliable. All correspondents are excluded from the Servian lines except two Austrian correspondents whose dispatches are cooked. A dispatch to the *Standard* from Solenci, opposite Slivnitza, dated 1 o'clock Monday morning, says that King Milan and Premier Garachanine had arrived at headquarters. The Servian army was drawn up facing the enemy, and was preparing for a final attempt to break through and force its way to Sofia. A Belgrade dispatch, dated Monday evening, says that yesterday's dispatches from Pirot made no mention of the Bulgarians having occupied Tzaribrod. A telegram from Sofia says that the Servians have bombarded Widdin, and that the city is on fire. Late dispatches from Vienna say that the bombardament of Widdin was continued for one hour, and was not decisive. The Bulgarians replied vigorously to the Servian fire, and were not in the least demoralized.

CHICAGO, November 29 .- Yesterday Dr. Charles D. Bradley, a well-known physician of this city, was placed in confinement ap-parently hopelessly insane and a physical wreck, owing to his immoderate use of coparently hopelessly insane and a physical wreck, owing to his immoderate use of cocoaine, and his wife and five children were sent to hospitals disfigured for life and completely broken down in health by reason of the experiments to which they were subjected by the doctor. On Friday Dr. Bradley was taken before Judge Prendegast to be tried for insanity. The evidence showed that he was a fanatic on the subject of cocoaine. His claim was that he could inject the hydrochlorate without pain, and remove the flesh without injury to the patient. He injected some of it into his own arm, and then with a red-bot iron burned it out without flinching. Some more of it he injected into the wrist of his three-year-old child, and then with a knife cut out the flesh, the little one apparently suffering no pain. He used the drug promiscuously in the family, and became himself a slave to it, until in a little time his practice fell away, and his family was reduced to want. Under the influence of the stuff he claimed he was the discoverer, that it would revolutionize medicine, and that the world would recognize him a as benefactor, whose name would go down to the ages. The victim grew very exited in the Court-room when he realized his situation. In an agony of despair, running up to the Court, and placing his hand on the Judge's shoulder, he cried: "You will kill my wife as sure as there is a God in Heaven! I ask you as a man, Judge Prendegast, to try the cocoaine, and if I am wrong then do with me as you will." Dr. Bradley commenced the use of cocoaine last May, but the drug soon gained such complete control of him that he neglected his practice and mortgaged all he possessed, even his horse and buggy, to pursue his favorite study. His wife, an invalid, and his children ruined in bealth, their condition was heart-rending in the extreme. As an experiment the victim was sent to the Washington Home, but it is believed he will prove to be hopelessly insane. Three of the children any of them will ever recover their normal condition. coaine, and his wife and five children were in State at the Court-House. Indianapolis, Ind., November 29.-The amily and a few personal friends joined in devotional exercises around the remains of the dead Vice-President at 10 o'clock this norning, and a half hour later they were removed in charge of the committees and local military, to the court-house, where they will lie in state till tomorrow evening at 50'clock. They were placed upon the catafalque at noon and thousands of people have viewed them during the afternoon. The arrangements at the court-house are on the most elaborate scale, the draping being in re-markable taste and without reference to cost. The catafalque is heavily draped in same material, the loops being fastened with white rosettes. With the exception of narrow passage-ways on either side, the approaches to the catafalque are covered with a profusion of tropical plants and evergreens. At each corner is a broken column made of smilax, carnations, tuberoses and lilius.

The face of the dead is a little bloated, but only the closest observer could detect it. Otherwise it is perfectly natural.

THE LIFE-SAVING SERVICE

An Encouraging Report from a Most Pralaeworthy Department.

Washington, November 29.—The annual report of the General Superintendent of the Life-saving Service shows that at the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 203 stations, 157 being on the Atlantic, thirty-eight on the lakes, seven on the Pacific and one at the falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. The number of disasters to documented vessels within the field of station operations during the year was 256. There were on board these vessels 2266 persons, of whom 2,196 were saved. The estimated value of the vessels involved in these disasters was $3,519,550, and that of there cargoes $1,084,906, making the total value of property imperiled $4,604,455. Of this amount $3,352,780 was saved. The number of vessels totally lost was fifty-six. The total loss of life within the scope of the service is the smallest ever reached since its general extension, except in the year 1880, when but nine were lost. Since that time, however, the field of operations has been greatly enlarged by the addition of twenty stations, in localities especially selected on account of their dangerous character.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Vice President of the United States,

Expires Suddenly of Paralysis of the Heart at Indianapolis-Preparations for the by the Senate.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 25.—Vice President Thomas A. Hendricks died very suddenly at a few minutes before 5 o'clock this evening at his residence on North Ten-nessee street, this city. He returned from Chicago on yesterday, where he had contracted a severe cold, but nothing serious was anticipated, either by his friends or his physician. Feeling a great deal better in the evening, he and Mrs. Hendricks attended a evening, he and Mrs. Hendricks attended a reception given by State Treasurer Cooper, and to all appearances the Vice-President was as well as usual. He complained two or three times to intimate friends of feeling unwell, but it was not until 11 o'clock that he and Mrs. Hendricks returned home. He rested well during the night and arose as usual this morning. After breakfast he felt worse and lined to do, saying that it always had prostrating effect upon his system, and he administered an emetic, and later in the morning gave an injection. The physician then left, but was shortly afterwards again called to the Hendricks residence. He found the patient suffering from a severe chill, and it was more than an hour before he was relieved. He was very much prostrated by the rigor, but still he did not go to bed, but was frequently sitting up. During the day the patient evinced a strong desire to have Mrs. Hendricks always near him, and when she left the room for a moment he seemed troubled and anxious. He appeared to be apprehensive of some approaching calamity, and more than once he requested Mrs. Hendricks not to leave him. The physician did not apprehend any immediate danger, and during his last visit in the afternoon he and the Vice President talked freely about a number of matters, and among them his early departure for Washington City, where he would enter upon his duties in the Senate.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock the physician and Mr. Hendricks were talking, the latter reclining on the bed, when he said: "I am free at last."

"What do you mean?" asked the physician. "I mean I am free from pain," was the aurostrating effect upon his system, and h dministered an emetic, and later_i

"I mean I am free from pain," was the answer.

The doctor then left the house and Mrs. Hendricks was summoned down stairs to see a caller. This was the first time she had left him during the day, as she had refused to see anyone before. His assertion that he was free from pain dispelled any uneasiness that she had felt about his condition, and when she left him it was with the assurance that she would be absent but a few moments. She was delayed longer than she expected, and when she returned to the room she found that Mr. Hendricks was dead. The end of a busy and eventful life had come peaceably and quietly. On his face there was no indication of pain or suffering, and his eyes were only half closed, as it in a gentle sleep. The relatives of the family were immediately summond. There was nobody in his room when he died, and only Mrs. Hendricks, the servants and a caller in the house. Mrs. Hendricks was almost distracted with grief, and could not restrain her feelings enough to talk. The house was soon filled with anxious friends, while a crowd collected around the gate and it was found necessary to refuse them admission.

The physicians in attendance believe that death was caused by paralysis of the heart, for had it been apoplexy there would have been some indications of it in the appearance of his face. He complained principally of of his face. He complained principally of his stomach this morning, although there was a nervous twitching in the muscles of his face. Announcement of the event was received with incredulity by the public, bur when there could be no longer any doub in from prominent persons all over the Union to Mrs. Hendricks on her sad bereavement.

Mrs. Hendricks stayed in her room all day and saw but a few people but the parlorsdown stairs were filled with callers, who were received by her brother. Mr. Stephen W. Morgan, and his family, and Dr. Jenekes, the rector o the church. She talked calmly and composedly with her friends, only breaking down with outbursts of grief once or twice.

The body lay in the parlor chamber up stairs, and few were permitted to see it. The embalming process to which it was subjected this morning, had been successfully accomplished, and on the face there was a look of contentment and freedom from care. The features are wonderfully natural and unmarred by a suggestion of ghastilness.

The General Committee selected at Mrs. Hendricks' suggestion to arrange for the funeral of the dead Vice President met this evening, and appointed the necessary subcommittees to perfect all the arrangements. Senator Benjamin Harrison called the meeting to order, and on his motion Hon. Wm. H. English was chosen President.

The funeral will take place at noon on Tuesday, the procession leaving the house at 11:35 o clock for the church in the following order:

Police,

of a handsome floral tribute to be sent to Indianapolis.

The Republican members of the Senate will hold a caucus on Saturday week. At this gathering the President pro-tempore will be agreed upon. When the Senate mects on the following Monday the body will be called to order by its Secretary, who will announce the Vice-President's death. Then will come the election of a President, who will also be acting Vice-President, and an immediate adjournment will follow out of respect to the decease.

-Two young men of Confluence, Pa., recently made a wager as to which of them could suck the most eggs. One of them disposed of forty and the other forty-one. And yet Boston still has the effrontery to claim to be the home of "culture." An American West-minster Abbey can not be established too soon for the accommodation of such superior talent as exhibited by the Confluence young men.-Norristown

-The French Government would like to give the army the privilege of wearing beards, but feels the necessity of first consulting several high military authorities, as the opinions on the subject are contradictory. Meanwhile the press falls back on history, and finds that the conquerors of all ages were about equally divided between the shorn and inshorn.

THE STOCKMEN.

Progress of the National Convention at St. Louis-Legislation Against Disease St. Louis, Nov. 25.-Hon. Elmer E. Washburn read a paper on the position taken by the Chicago Live-Stock Exchange toward national legislation relative to contagious diseases before the National Cattle and Horse-Growers' Association yesterday. He suggested the appointment of a national committee to foster proper national legislation to protect the cattle industry in all of its branches. Irus Coy, of Chi-cago, read a paper on the same subject, in which he expressed decided opposition to the Animal-industry bill, now in operation, as calculated to create trouble in the cattle industry, instead of lasting benefits, inas-much as the industry is practically at the nercy of veterinarians given to making ensational reports of the existence of sensational reports of the existence of pleuro-pneumonia when nothing more dangerous than lung fever, the result of overdriving, is in sight.

The Committee on Resolutions recommends that a committee be appointed to draft a bill to be submitted to Congress in the name of the association, providing for the appointment by the President of the United States of a commission of fine, experienced and practical stock-breeders, to whom full power shall be given to regulate the quarantine and treatment of cattle, even to the extent of the purchase and deeven to the extent of the purchase and de-struction of infected herds, under the supervision of the Commissioner of Agri-

SHERWIN RELEASED

The Ex-President of the Maxwell Land-ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 25 .- The Court of Appeals yesterday rendered a decision dis-charging Frank R. Sherwin from the Albany Penitentiary on the ground that the indictment was defect ve. Sherwin was re-cently sentenced to six months' imprison-ment and fined $250 for contempt in refus-ing to obey a subpena in the case of the State against Phelps. Sherwin was arrested first in the case in 1877, and released on $30,000 bail. He was rearrested at Chicago sao,000 bail. He was rearrested at Chicago last year and brought to Albany. Meanwhile Baron de Constant Rebecque caused the arrest of Sherwin for alleged frauds committed on the Maxwell Land-Grant Company, of New Mexico, of which Sherwin was the President. He was sentenced in June last to two years' imprisonment. in June last to two years' imprisonment Sherwin is married to a daughter of ex-Governor Gilpin, of Colorado. Sherwin was formerly in the dry-goods business, having had stores in Northampton (Mass.), Milwaukee and New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25,-Yesterday morn ng William S. Warner and J. Henry Work appeared before Judge Brown and asked what amount of bail would be required in their case. Judge Brown fixed their bail at $30,000. Both defendants appeared before Commissioner Shields and gave bonds in sum of $60,000, or double the amount required. The sureties are Frank Work and John C. Work, uncle and father of J. Henry Work. The proceedings pending befor Commissioner Shields were then dismissed A reporter was permitted to see the in dictment found by the United States Grand Jury against William S. Warner and J. Hen-ry Work and Ferdinand Ward, charging them with complicity in defrauding the Marine National Bank. It is a lengthy document, and contains eight counts, each of which charges Ward, Warner and Work with either abstracting or misapplying un-lawfully funds belonging to the Marine bank, or conspiring and aiding in such un-lawful acts. lawful acts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. - Dr. Cyrus Edson of the Sanitary Bureau, was informed several days ago that a number of children eral days ago that a number of children had been poisoned by wearing imported woolen stockings of bright red color. The legs of the children were covered with a rash which indicated that the dye used in the stockings contained antimony. Dr. Edson ascertained that the stockings were made in Saxony. Prof. Waller, the Health Department chemist, analyzed the coloring matter and found that the dye contained enough antimony and arsenic to injure the skin of a mony and arsenic to injure the skin of a child. The antimony, Dr. Edson stated, was used to set the color and keeps it from
